The Board of Equalization will meet at the Court House next Wednesday, July 17th, to finish their business. This will be the final meeting of the Board.

Miss Mamie Steedman, the extremely efficient stenographer in Charles French Tom's office will also do typewriting and stenographic work for the general public. Miss Steedman's charges are moderate.

There will be an ice cream supper at the Methodist parsonage Mills River circuit on Saturday evening the 13th. Proceeds to be used for the benefit of the parsonage. The public cordially invited.

Miss Moore, the expert milliner at Mrs. Posey's has gone to the Exposition. From there she will go to New York, returning to North Carolina in the Fall. Miss Moore does not expect to return to Hendersonville.

Edward D. Conn, who so ably and graphically described the beauties of Hendersonville in the Raleigh News and Observer, recently, is one of that great paper's most accomplished men. He wields a trenchant pen and his descriptive articles make good reading.

The stockholders of the A. I. R. R. Co., held a meeting at the court house on Tuesday last. Considerable business of importance was transacted and it is hoped soon to have information of great interest to the public to give out. Several Asheville men were present at the meeting.

All shipments of fruits and vegetables from Hendersonville will hereafter be shipped in refrigerator cars. The cars will be loaded in Asheville, and then sent here. Ira J. Davis last summer loaded the first car which ever left Hendersonville, which was a shipment to New York city.

Chas. John McNeill, the polished and scholarly correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, is in the city to report the proceedings of the Bar Association. Mr. McNeill is one of the most interesting and finished newspaper men in the State and does his full share towards making the Observer the interesting paper it is.

The Board of Directors of the Auditorium company wish to announce that Rev. Miller will conduct a series of meetings at the auditorium, beginning Saturday night, July 14th. Rev. Miller will have the co-operation of all the churches and preachers of the town; it is believed these meetings will be productive of much good.

W. F. Roberson, a resident of Hendersonville for over 25 years, died at his home here on Tuesday morning. Interment was in Mud Creek Cemetery, and the ceremonies were conducted by the local Masonic Lodge. Mr. Roberson has been a mason for over 40 years, and was well known in the community. He came from Scotland here and is survived by his wife.

Senator Lee S. Overman, junior representative from North Carolina in the senate branch of our National Congress is at Hotel Gates. Senator Overman is well and favorably known to our people and is a welcome visitor. He has taken high rank in the Senate and wears the honor most gracefully. The Senator speaks in the highest terms of the new Hendersonville.

J. A. Fanning and family, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Justice, has returned to his home in Kentucky. It is 20 years since Mr. Fanning has been in Hendersonville, and the wonderful changes in the county and city were a source of constant wonderment to him. He enjoyed his visit here greatly, but marveled at the transformation which had occurred in twenty years.

The Hotel Wheeler has a number of lawyers registered.

Col. S. S. Crittenden of Greenville, is in town for several weeks. Mrs. Charles Marie Hall, of New York, daughter of Judge Parker, is a guest of the Hotel Gates.

There will be a Christian Harmony Singing at Horse Shoe next Sunday, with dinner on the grounds.

Next Wednesday, at the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Cameron Johnson will give his illustrated lecture on Mission Work in Korea.

Glory! The fountain at the court house has been dug out and cleaned of the mass of weeds growing there. Ed. Brooks is responsible for it.

The Hotel Gates, second annual ball, on the 16th, promises to be event of social importance. Many guests from out of town will be present.

A. E. Shanks, proprietor of the Candy Kitchen, is making fresh, pure candies, daily, and his chocolates are gaining him a decided reputation for high grade goods.

H. S. Bruin, proprietor of the Red Store is well satisfied with two things: Hendersonville and advertising in the Hustler, which Mr. Bruin says brings results.

Mr. Hayden Clement, the efficient assistant Attorney General of the state, is here attending the Bar Association. He is a splendid young lawyer and an all-round 'good fellow.'

A. Wayland Cooke, a rising young attorney of Greensboro, is here circulating among his numerous friends. He is astonished at the rapid growth of Hendersonville since his residence here some years ago. Glad to have you with us again, old fellow.

Miss Rosalie Ray, who has so many friends in Hendersonville, was married to Mr. D. M. Wells, of Newberry, S. C., at Waynesville, Wednesday morning, the 10th. Mr. and Mrs. Wells will visit the Exposition and then probably spend the summer in this city.

That prince of clever gentlemen and accomplished lawyer, Hon. George Rountree, is here from Wilmington attending the Bar Association. He is an enthusiastic admirer of this "hustling burg" and we have to thank him for lending his valuable influence, as chairman of the Association's executive committee, in bringing that great organization to Hendersonville this year.

Hon. A. D. Watts, author of the much discussed and deservedly popular Watts Law passed by the General Assembly of 1903, is in Hendersonville attending the meeting of the Bar Association. Mr. Watts thinks this a beautiful and thriving little city and expresses surprise to find so much evidence of thrift and progressiveness exhibited since his last visit to this section. Mr. Bis Ray's Book.

Mr. Bis Ray, of Yancey county, one of the best known attorneys of the State, is in attendance at the convention. Mr. Ray's law book, "The Annotation to the Revised of 1905," is almost invaluable to the attorney at law. It contains 30,000 citations, including the fellow servant act of 1907. It is counted a work of merit and must fill a "long felt want" in the profession.

Laurel Park.

The Tackey Party last Friday night at the Park Rink was entirely successful, and many exceedingly tacky looking people were on the floor.

Next Saturday night Manager Fite announces a candle race, which has every promise of furnishing plenty of amusement.

The Saturday following will occur a greased pig race, in the rink. If you catch the pig its yours.

The various attractions offered by Manager Fite are drawing good crowds to Laurel Park, the most beautiful natural park in the state.

The balance of the program had not been decided upon at 2 o'clock, Wednesday.

The Interest Increasing!

The interest in Hunter's big free trip to the Exposition increases each week. Just now Miss Nina Pace is in the lead, but there are rumors, dark and mysterious of a plot to vote heavily for a certain other well known and popular young lady.

Just who that young lady is her backers decline to state just now, but they are firm in their opinion that she will go to Jamestown, and that at all events will give Miss Nina Pace and all other contestants a close and hot race. They say that next week will begin to show.

Anyhow, the fortunate one will have a rare trip and all at Hunter's expense.
